Tuinzicht is a lively neighborhood with a diverse character and a practical location in relation to the center of Breda. Once created as a real working-class neighborhood, Tuinzigt has undergone a significant upgrade in recent years, which is visible in the mix of renovated homes, apartment complexes and some new construction projects. This makes it an accessible neighborhood for starters, young families and people who want to enjoy the benefits of an urban living environment.

Good accessibility

The neighborhood is easily accessible, both by car and public transport. Tuinzigt is close to highways such as the A16 and A58, which is ideal for commuters.
